

West Germany May Get Right To Rearm For Europe's Defense

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today the United States and Britain have set a secret deadline for starting West German rearmament.
France and West Germany will be informed of this in the next few days along with another British American agreement for restoring sovereignty to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government, the officials added.
This was reported as Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet met in emergency session to consider the consequences of the French rejection of the European Defense Community project, devised as a means of using German troops in the defense of Western Europe under strict international safeguards.
The United States and Britain, said the diplomatic informants, intend warning France they will consider rearming the Germans on their own unless France formally and finally accepts:
1. That a German defense contribution to the West is essential.
2. That it must be launched within a fixed period—probably by mid-1955 at the latest.
3. That the shape and size of the German contribution, and the safeguards accompanying it, must be the subject of quick international negotiations—presumably by the foreign ministers of the 14 Atlantic Pact partners.

The United States and Britain want these provisions written into a formal agreement between themselves, France and West Germany.
The sources did not disclose the deadline. It is understood to be around mid-1955. The British Foreign Office would not comment on the report.

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government called on the Western powers today to restore sovereignty to West Germany at once.
The government pledged that it will continue to support European unity despite the French rejection of the European army plan.
A special communique issued after a meeting of Chancellor Adenauer with his cabinet and leaders of the coalition parties also urged quick new negotiations on the "military integration" of Europe.
The communique indicated the Bonn government will reject the Allied-West German peace contract (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 7)

Second World War Started By Hitler 15 Years Ago Today

By TOM STONE
FRANKFURT (AP)—Adolf Hitler started World War II 15 years ago today.
In the chilly dawn of Sept. 1, 1939, his troops invaded Poland, plunging Europe into war.
Within six years Hitler was dead and the defeated German armies had surrendered unconditionally to the Allies.

Now, 15 years after it all began, West Germany is nearly back on its feet.
Cities that were reduced to rubble by air and ground attack have been built up again. Industry that was brought to a standstill is booming. The people have hope again.
But some scars of war still mark the face of Germany. The country is divided between East and West. It is an unarmed nation on the most strategic crossroads of Europe.
It still waits for sovereignty.
Only two days ago, Germany's dreams of early independence were shattered when France, an old military and political foe, killed the European Defense Community.
Some leaders fear that the setback to German sovereignty and rearmament could swing Germany to isolationism or ultranationalism.
German newspapers soberly reminded their readers today of the military conflict that "Hitler alone wanted" 15 years ago. They discussed with evident uncertainty the crisis now facing the country today.

Deputy Catches Speeding Thieves

ST. JOHNS (AP)—A Gratiot County sheriff's deputy captured two youths who escaped from the Clinton County jail Tuesday within 20 minutes after a breakneck 100-mile-an-hour chase.
The two 17-year-olds were caught 13 miles north of St. Johns on US27. They are Loren Miller of Wolverine, Mich., and William Robertson of Avondale, Mo.
The youths made their break from a work detail washing patrol cars after noting a county official always left his keys in his car. A courthouse janitor saw them drive hastily away and gave the alarm.
Deputy Gerald Smith received a radio call from Sheriff P. J. Patterson. Smith saw the car traveling at high speed ahead of him and gave chase. The youths gave up when Smith overtook them.
The youths were serving 60 to 75 days for car theft. They were to be released Sept. 10, but police in Grand Rapids wanted them for another car theft.
The pair received dishonorable discharges from the Army while in the Clinton County jail for going AWOL twice from Fort Knox, Ky. Sheriff Patterson said they stole a dozen cars in their first spree from Fort Knox and took nine cars in their second flight.
The sheriff said they got cars in Ionia, St. Johns, Portland, Lansing, St. Joseph and Grand Rapids in their second series of thefts.

Legion Parade Sets Record; Convention Back To Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tired but still-exuberant legionnaires turned back to serious convention business today after staging one of the longest parades in the nation's history.
Up for the decision were a bushy-haired resolutions on important subjects—such as universal military training, foreign policy and medical treatment for veterans.
And once again, on this third day of the American Legion's annual get-together, some of the

Airman, 23, Dies For Murder Of Texas Girl, 18

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—His bravado gone, a dejected Walter E. Whitaker Jr. went to his death today at 12:06 a. m. in the Texas prison system's electric chair.
Whitaker was convicted and sentenced to death for the 1953 slaying of Joyce Fern White, 18, Lubbock, Tex., high school senior he courted while he was an Air Force cadet in her home town.
Joyce Fern's body was found in a shallow grave on the prairie west of Lubbock two weeks after she disappeared from the kitchen of her widowed mother's home. Whitaker, during the long search for the girl, offered his aid and visited her grieving relatives to offer sympathy.

On Way To Be Married
He was arrested after transfer from Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock but stubbornly denied any connection with the girl's disappearance. Then suddenly he decided to lead officers to Joyce Fern's garrotted body. To the last, he denied remembering actually killing his sweetheart.
At his trial in Lubbock, there was testimony that Whitaker drove a borrowed automobile down an alley to the rear of the White home. Joyce Fern was washing her hair in the kitchen, testimony said, but left hurriedly with the cadet to go to Clovis, N. M., to be married.
She was never seen alive again.
"I want to thank everybody who has helped me in any way," said the 23-year-old Whitaker as he was being strapped into the electric chair.
Lost Memory Claimed
He hesitated and added:
"Well, I guess that's about it." Whitaker testified at his trial that when he told Joyce he was being transferred to San Antonio, she begged him to marry her. When he refused, he told the jury, she told him she was pregnant. He testified he then agreed to take her to Clovis, N. M., and marry her. But on the way, he said, she told him she was not pregnant. A quarrel followed.
Whitaker said they slapped each other and his mind went blank. He said he came to and found his sweetheart strangled to death with a cotton cord around her neck. He buried her on the prairie, he said, and then lost all memory of the event.

Eisenhower Signs Big Bill To Boost Social Security

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower planned to sign into law today the big bill to extend the social security program and increase both benefits and payments.
White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the chief executive will approve the measure, one which he urged Congress to enact, at his vacation ranch here.
The bill increases present and future benefits, boosts taxes to foot the bills, and extends coverage of the system to 10 million additional persons.

Republicans Take Credit
The higher benefit checks for 6½ million persons now on the rolls will go out in early October, a month before the fall elections.
Republicans make no bones of their expectation of reaping a political profit from the measure. But Democrats in Congress contended the voters would not forget their party originated the social security system 20 years ago and long has fought to expand it.
All of the five million retired persons now on the social security rolls will get a minimum increase of $5 a month effective with their September check. The average payment for these persons is expected to go up $6 to about $57. The 1½ million survivors and dependents will receive proportionate raises.

Base Up To $4200
The benefit formulas are rewritten so that future benefits will increase considerably. For instance, the maximum payment for an individual will be $108.50 instead of $85 as at present. For a couple the new maximum will be $162.75 instead of the present $127.50.
The salary tax base will go up from $3,600 to $4,200 yearly effective next Jan. 1. Thus an individual earning $4,200 or more a year will have to pay $12 in additional taxes starting in 1955; his employer must do the same. For self-employed earning at least $4,200, the tax boost will be $18. The 2 per cent rate for employed workers and the 3 per cent rate for self-employed do not change until 1960.

The new compulsory coverage provided in the bill will extend to 3,600,000 farm operators, 2,100,000 farm hands, 100,000 engineers, architects, accountants and undertakers, 25,000 domestic workers, 100,000 home workers and 50,000 persons in the fishing industry.
Voluntary coverage is provided for 3,600,000 state and local government workers who must decide in referendums whether they wish to come in. 280,000 ministers and Christian Science practitioners, and 100,000 American citizens employed outside the United States by foreign subsidiaries of American companies.

American Bodies Moved In Korea

By GENE KRAMER
PANMUNJOM (AP)—The bodies of 800 men killed in the Korean War, including 193 Americans, started home today in the first exchange of soldiers who died and were buried in enemy territory.
The 193 Americans were among 200 Allied bodies which eight Russian-built military trucks delivered to the U. N. Command in the neutral zone. The seven other bodies were not identified as to nationality.
U. S. Army trucks brought to the exchange point the bodies of 500 Koreans and 100 Chinese soldiers.
The exchange is expected to continue more than a month. The Reds said they will turn over the bodies of 151 Americans, 3 Britons, 33 Koreans and 13 bodies unidentified as to nationality Thursday.
The Allies will deliver 600 more Communist bodies.
Although the Communists supplied a list of names for bodies received Tuesday, none of the bodies will be identified until after positive identification is made from Washington. This may take several months.

Will Vote On Liquor

HILLSDALE (AP)—Hillsdale County voters will decide in the November election whether or not the county will allow the sale and manufacture of alcoholic beverages. The county election board approved the issue upon a dry group's showing of 3,748 petition signatures.

McCarthy Is Called Lax In Army Scrap; Senators Rap Cohn

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators who spent 36 turbulent days probing the McCarthy-Army row split last night on whether Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was at fault, but all of them aimed barbs at Roy M. Cohn and two high Army officials.
Republicans and Democrats diverged in parceling out responsibility in the controversy. Republicans absolved McCarthy of improper conduct but said he had been lax. Democrats attributed "inexcusable actions" to both the senator and Cohn, former chief counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee McCarthy heads.
And both sides said Secretary of the Army Stevens had sought to appease McCarthy and Cohn and had failed to stand up for what he regarded as his rights. Both were critical too of Army Counselor

John G. Adams.
Cohn, 27, who bore the sharpest criticism from both sides, commented that apparently anyone who seeks to expose communism "has to contend not only with the smears of Communists but with partisan politics as well." Cohn is a Democrat.
As for McCarthy, the Republicans said in their report that he had not tried personally to bring improper pressures to bear on the Army in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine, an unpaid subcommittee consultant before he was drafted last November. The four GOP senators, however, said McCarthy should have exercised "more vigorous discipline" on his staff.
The three Democrats' report, on the other hand, said McCarthy deserved "severe criticism" and contended he had "fully acquiesced in and condoned" what they described as Cohn's improper tactics.

Sales Tax Goes Up In August

LANSING (AP)—For the first time in many months the three per cent Michigan sales tax increased in August, deputy State Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said today.
Collections during the month on July business totaled $23,538,551. This was an increase of $105,000 over a year ago. Lock said the reversal of the trend was due mainly to a vigorous sales campaign by automobile dealers.
Sales taxes on automobiles totaled $3,501,000 compared to $3,766,000 a year ago. In previous months this year, automobile sales taxes have been off $400,000 to $500,000.
The state cigarette tax totaled $2,301,323, compared with $2,480,000 last August. Lock contributed the drop to a buying spree last year just before a price increase.

Wind Cuts Swath Of Destruction In New England

BOSTON (AP)—Hurricane Carol spent itself out in Canada today after ramming through the Northeast states with a fury that left at least 47 dead and property damage estimated at from 300 to 500 million dollars.
The storm, which originated in the Caribbean Sea and expired north of Quebec City, did its worst damage in New England, where it cut a destructive path comparable to that of the 1938 hurricane.
Hundreds of summer homes were destroyed and thousands of small boats were lost or damaged.

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered the federal Civil Defense Administration to "cut through any red tape" to provide aid for victims of the hurricane which hit the northeastern section of the United States. as the storm whipped wildly with gusts up to 125 m. p. h. through New England. From the beaches of New London, Conn., it spread northward in a wide path across Rhode Island, Cape Cod, eastern and central Massachusetts and parts of New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Warnings Saves Lives
However, Hurricane Carol was so well plotted that loss of life was far below the toll of 488 persons who perished in the Sept. 21, 1938 hurricane, which struck New England without warning.
It was estimated the Hurricane had left about a third of New England's 10 million population without power or electricity.
Gov. Dennis J. Roberts declared a state of martial law in Rhode Island after receiving reports that the damage in his state alone would total 50 million dollars.
National Guard troops patrolled the streets of at least a half-dozen Massachusetts communities to prevent looting of storm-battered homes and stores.

Teacher Admits He's Ex-Convict

CHICAGO (AP)—A Chicago public school teacher, through his lawyer, acknowledged Tuesday that he is an ex-convict and State's Atty. John Gutknecht said authorities had the proof without the admission.
Lawrence B. Jackson's attorney, Charles Bellows, made a public admission Tuesday that Jackson, for 22 years a teacher in Chicago, had a criminal past. Jackson, who has been suspended, first denied it although his fingerprints matched those of a former convict.
Bellows said Jackson had retained him to defend the teacher on involuntary manslaughter charges in connection with his ownership of a tenement building in which seven persons died in a fire June 11.
When Gutknecht learned of Jackson's admission through Bellows he said "We are in position to state that, despite his denial, Lawrence Jackson is the same man whose finger prints were in the police files here, in Wisconsin and Ohio."

"Evidently the denial was a frantic, foolish effort to deny the inescapable fact because of his family," Gutknecht added.
Gutknecht said Jackson's case before the grand jury will be considered next week.

Jet Seaplane Flies Faster Than Sound

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A seaplane for the first time has exceeded the speed of sound, it was disclosed here Tuesday.
Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said the revolutionary speed was accomplished here Aug. 3 by a delta-wing jet fighter built for the Navy. Test pilot C. E. Richbourg was at the controls.
The plane is called Sea Dart and designated YF2Y1. Its speed was not disclosed.

Iron Mountain Soldier Heard At Army Trial

By STAN CARTER
FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—Former fellow prisoners picture Lt. Col. Harry Fleming as a leader who did all he could to make life easier for his comrades and a POW compound boss who threatened other prisoners in Korea with punishment if they did not cooperate with the Communists.
The different versions were told to an 11-member military court trying the slight, grey-haired career Army officer on charges of collaborating with the enemy during his 34 months as a prisoner of the Reds.

Stories Conflict
The Army general court-martial resumed today with 1st Lt. Chester W. Van Orman of Gardiner, Maine, who was billeted in the same room with Fleming in a North Korean POW camp, still on the stand. It is the third day of the trial.
Fleming, 46, of Racine, Wis., is the first American officer brought to trial for behavior as a prisoner in Korea. He faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, separation from the service and loss of all pay and allowances if convicted.
Tuesday, while Fleming stared impassively, Van Orman and another former prisoner, Sgt. I.C. Joseph T. Gardiner, of Iron Mountain, Mich., told conflicting stories about his actions in prison camp.
Gardiner testified Fleming threatened "on two or three occasions" to see that he was sent to the "caves"—a Communist punishment camp—"if I didn't straighten out."

Accused of Stealing
The sergeant said Fleming made the threat one time to force him to write a propaganda article for the Communists and another time either because the Red POW officers were disappointed with his attitude or "because of a disagreement I had with Colonel Fleming."
He said the root of the disagreement was Fleming accusing him

Avery In Battle Over Soo Firm

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Sewell Avery is battling to regain control of Michigan's Cadillac-Soo Lumber Co. as well as to keep control of Montgomery Ward & Co.
And in the Michigan fight, he got assistance from two lumber company directors Tuesday. They joined him in a suit to stop payment of dividends voted by a majority of directors last June, when Avery was unseated as president.
Avery's control of Montgomery Ward is being challenged by a group of stockholders who claim now to control the largest single block of stock in the widely known store chain.
Directors William W. Crapo, of Detroit, and A. E. Anderson, of Lansing, conceded every allegation made by Avery in the lumber company suit he started in Federal Court several weeks ago.
Seven other board members, however, have denied his allegations and asked dismissal of the suit on grounds his plea is not a proper cause for action.
Avery charges that dividends voted by the majority are improper and aren't a distribution of profits, but a means of liquidating the business.
The lumber company's headquarters are at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. It operates primarily in Michigan's forested Upper Peninsula.

Old Peninsula Coal Vein Found

MARQUETTE (AP)—Three geologists Tuesday announced the discovery in Michigan's Upper Peninsula of a scientifically important 10-foot vein of coal formed 1,500,000 years ago.
The find was announced by L. P. Barrett, a member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission from Ishpeming, Mich., Dr. Stanley A. Tyler, head of the geology department of the University of Wisconsin, and Professor Elsie Barghoorn of Harvard University.
Barrett said the discovery indicates the existence of life on earth during the pre-Cambrian era.
The men said the coal was formed in pre-Cambrian rocks and was found by stripping land in a heavily wooded section of Iron County.
The discovery was made through a study financed by the Geological Society of America.

Steam Contract Up For Action

A proposed contract between the city of Escanaba and the Chicago & North Western Railway to have the city supply steam to the railway for use in its Peninsula Division shops will come before the City Council for further consideration Thursday night.

The Council will meet in regular session at 8 p. m., in City Hall with Mayor Harlan Yelland presiding.

The International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers has opposed the contract, contending that it will mean the loss of jobs for four or five men. C&NW Railway officials say the contract will bring greater efficiency in car repair work and the possibility of more rather than fewer jobs.

Other business on the Council meeting agenda prepared by City Manager A. V. Aronson is as follows:

Second reading of a proposed amendment to the Civil Service Ordinance.

Appointment of a member of the Recreation Board; extension of the tax payment date; request of radio station WESK for a transfer of its lease of city land where its transmitter is located.

Request of Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association for a meeting with the Council at which it will submit a proposed contract to supply the city with "surplus" electric power for 10 years, together with a letter of transmittal.

Improvement At St. Francis Made

Piping is being installed throughout St. Francis hospital to provide oxygen from one central source at that institution.

The improvement, when completed, will make oxygen immediately available in every patient's room in the hospital at a moment's notice and do away with the necessity of rushing oxygen tanks and equipment from one part of the building to another.

Piping is already completed and in service on two floors and the whole installation is expected to be made in the course of a couple of weeks.

A number of other changes, the nature of which have not been announced, are also being made at this time, according to Sister Roberta, superintendent.

The month was slightly drier than normal with only 2.17 inches recorded. About 1 1/2 inches fell in August, 1953 and over five inches the year before. Most of the rain fell on the first two days and about .75 inches fell on the remaining eight days on which rain was measured.

Voice Appeal In Polio Emergency

An emergency appeal for contributions to the March of Dimes is being made by the Delta County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, whose funds are exhausted, it was announced today by Leslie Olson, local chairman.

Thousands of patients still under care and treatment from past epidemics, including many in iron lungs; plus the fact that epidemics have broken out in many sections of the United States this summer, requires that a special appeal for funds be made to meet the emergency.

"The unprecedented drain on funds comes at a time when tens of thousands of patients are desperately in need of costly care that will help them to walk again," Chairman Olson pointed out.

The attempt to prevent polio through the development of a trial vaccine and the use of gamma globulin will require many millions of dollars this year alone if it is to be successful, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Five thousand appeal letters have been mailed out by the Delta County Chapter, with attached return envelopes to receive contributions to the emergency March of Dimes fund. Contributions should be made to Delta County Infantile Paralysis Fund, Earle B. Harris, treasurer, First National Bank, Escanaba.

The envelopes were addressed by the Escanaba city billing department, stamping and folding was through the cooperation of the Birds Eye Veneer Company, and the Escanaba Police Department transported the letters to the post office.

REV. ARCHIE GRUNDY, St. Cloud, Minn., is the evangelist at special meetings this week at the Watson Bible Chapel. Meetings begin at 8 each evening through Saturday, Sept. 4. Rev. Grundy also will speak Sunday, both in the morning service at 10:45 and the evening service at 7:30. Special music will be provided for each meeting.

No Dog Licenses, 4 Owners Fined

Four Gladstone residents appeared before Justice A. T. Sohler yesterday on complaints of dog warden Orrie Switzer for failure to obtain licenses for their dogs.

They are Tony Jugo, Vernon Young, Robert Beaudry and Rudy Sydmark. Each was fined $5 and $6.00 court costs but Justice Sohler suspended the sentences to Sept. 9. If the defendants purchase licenses for their dogs by that date, the fines will be reduced to $2.30.

The defendants admitted they had not purchased dog licenses but said that they felt they should not be required to purchase tags for their animals because the dogs had always been confined to the owners' yards.

Death Of EDC Spurs Search For New Solution To Problem

WHY did France reject the European Defense Community? Mrs. Stellanova Osborn, widow of the late Gov. Chase S. Osborn, says it is because France wants positive assurance that a new uprising of German militarism will not again overrun France, an assurance that Mrs. Osborn says it is not provided in EDC.

The real answer to France's plea and the answer most satisfactory to the free world as a whole, Mrs. Osborn says, is Atlantic Union, or as she sometimes calls it "ADC", meaning Atlantic Defense Community.

Whether you agree with Mrs. Osborn and others in the Atlantic Union movement or not, you cannot help but be impressed with the sincerity and the fervent devotion to a cause that Mrs. Osborn displays in her espousal of Atlantic Union.

As this energetic woman puts it, the problem is comparatively simple. Either the NATO powers combine to form Atlantic Union and weld themselves together in a solid wedge to preserve their liberty, or they will lose it to Communist aggression.

Is this the "One World" of Wendell Willkie's dream? Mrs. Osborn says not necessarily at least not at the outset. The important thing, according to Mrs. Osborn, is the first step, action by the Western Powers to meet with the viewpoint of creating a federation of democratic states in mutual self-protection.

According to Mrs. Osborn, the death of EDC may mean the birth of ADC because the free nations of the world are now forced to find a satisfactory solution to the perplexing problem that confronts them—the threat of Communist expansion.

There are, of course, numerous obstacles to Atlantic Union and many reasons for objections and opposition. There is, first of all, the nationalistic spirit that prevails in America and elsewhere, a spirit that naturally rebels against the yielding of even a little nationalism so sovereignty to a federation of nations.

But whether you agree Atlantic Union is the answer to the problem or not, you must concede that the proponents of this scheme are providing some food for thought in an international dilemma that must be met in one form or another.

We certainly are not gaining headway in the struggle against a tyrannical enemy that has long proclaimed the objective of world revolution.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN
TIME OF REAPPRAISAL

Observers in Washington have pointed out that after the Geneva Conference the Administration's attitude in foreign affairs changed. This change did not amount to a reappraisal of the policies though it will come to that. But it was at the least a change in the posture.

We decided to stop thinking of Free Europe and Free Asia as waiting for us to call the tunes. Of ourselves as the "leader" with all the others as the followers. Of ourselves initiating, sponsoring and ratifying the policies of all the nations of the coalition. This posture was a bad habit acquired during the dangerous days right after the war when Western Europe was prostrated and in fact dependent upon our help and guidance. Western Europe having recovered, the posture now pleases no one except our noisier politicians looking at themselves in the mirror of the headlines. It is alienating our friends with its insufferable condescension and it has been defeating our national purposes.

All our spokesmen and all the Voices of America have not yet heard about this change of posture. But there is a change and it was brought about by two great events. The first was the showdown in Washington over military intervention in Indo-China. The second was the sight of the great powers on both sides of the Iron Curtain, negotiating a truce while we were not actively present. A showdown over intervention proved that the Administration, quite rightly in the particular circumstances, was not willing to go to war. Our passivity at Geneva showed that diplomatic relations on a world scale are possible without our always playing the leading part. The President drew the true conclusion from these events when he said that we were not trying to lead but to be good partners.

WE HAD TO CHOOSE

None of this has been pleasing to our pride. But it may well have been good for our souls. For by the late spring our foreign relations were in a condition where something had to crack and give way. The imminent loss of Northern Viet Nam, which had been described officially as of "transcendent" importance, forced the showdown. On one hand, the Administration had been talking about defeating and rolling back the Communist orbit; on the other hand it was reducing taxes, contracting the military forces, disengaging American troops. The time had come when what Mr. Dulles said had to be reconciled with what Mr. Humphrey and Mr. Wilson were doing.

The time came when in Indo-China a hard choice had to be made. Were the French to surrender Tonkin where they were defeated and in grave peril; or were we to go to war in Tonkin, a war which meant a war with China? Anyone listening to the words spoken by the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary of State and all the other part-time secretaries of state in Congress, would have been sure that the decision would be for war. But anyone looking at the budget, the tax bill, the military cutbacks, the de-activated divisions, the redeployment and the disengagement of American forces, had to predict that the decision would be not to intervene.

It was embarrassing to eat the big words. But it would have been many times more embarrassing to explain to the voters that first we had reduced our forces and then we had involved ourselves in a war.

REAPPRAISAL NECESSARY

The new diplomatic look comprised a reappraisal both of the policy of containment, which comes down from Truman, and of the policy of liberation, which was built on top of containment like a kind of penthouse. The purpose of both policies is admirable, to prevent the Communist orbit from expanding and to make it contract. But a re-appraisal of both policies became necessary when they were militarized when the attempt was made to translate into military projects, when they ceased to be backed by a flexible and resourceful diplomacy. As military policies and projects the policies of containment and liberation are not within the real military capabilities of the Western Allies and their Asian partners. Western armaments are potent against organized aggression but they are very nearly impotent against guerrilla revolution.

The attempt to implement these policies with military forces at all the vulnerable points of the world demanded an enormous, an intolerable, commitment of American forces far beyond the historic and natural limits of American vital interests. The talk about massive retaliation and new military planning meant that the Administration was giving up the attempt to implement military containment and military liberation. But this new military look required a new diplomatic look. For beyond the limits of our vital interests and our military commitments is a large borderland in which the cold war must be waged primarily by political, economic, cultural and psychological means. Only in the last resort when there is overt aggression, is it a military conflict.

Geneva marked the end of the open warfare in which the two great coalitions were engaged. A condition not of peace but of co-existence now prevails.

It is founded upon the partition of Germany, Korea, Indo-China, and of China itself. The partitions have produced a kind of truce. For partition is what happens when two rival powers cannot agree and cannot settle the issues by fighting. And the partition of great countries, like Germany and China, cannot be permanent. The present global truce may therefore be expected to last only as long as these partitions can be made to last. The truce is almost certain to come to a great crisis: whenever the national forces in any of these countries upset the partition.

Sweeping Study Of U.S. Public Schools Launched By President

CLASSROOM IN A BRAND-NEW SCHOOL shows what's been done in past two years as school construction hits its all-time peak. But it isn't fast enough to keep up with record enrollment.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Eisenhower is launching the most comprehensive study of the American school system ever attempted to try to find a permanent cure for the chronic crisis which has beset U. S. education since before the war.

His action comes at a time when schools are re-opening their doors to the biggest student body in history and to the greatest number of unsolved problems educators have ever faced.

The President is writing to the governors asking them to call state conferences of citizens and educators to make basic evaluations of the needs of the schools. These conferences, he is informing the governors, will be followed by a White House conference next fall, which, it is hoped, will result in some basic solutions to the problems of American education.

Federal aid to education has been an issue in Congress since just after World War I. As school problems have mounted, support behind federal aid has grown.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, stated the Administration's position as she opposed a bill recently which would have given $250 million for school construction. She said Congress should wait and see what sentiment there was from citizens at the White House conference on the question.

Congress appropriated $700,000 to finance the state conferences and $200,000 to pay for the final White House meeting.

Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, U. S. Commissioner of Education, is following up the President's letter to the governors with instructions to state school officers on the details of setting up the conferences.

Dr. Brownell also reveals that the all-time record enrollment in schools and colleges this fall is 38,000,000 students. That is an increase of 1,692,000 students in elementary schools, 219,000 more students in high schools and 89,000 more students in colleges.

The tidal wave of new students resulting from the war "baby boom" is just now reaching the country's junior and senior high schools, Dr. Brownell reveals. It hasn't yet hit the colleges, but will in five years.

Cold statistics, Dr. Brownell says, prove that the country will have to triple the present rate of school construction if it keeps up with the increased need. Within five years, he claims, the country will need 720,000 more classrooms. School construction has been at the highest rate in history during the past two years. But it isn't fast enough. Hundreds of thousands of students will still be forced to enter classes in firetraps and ancient buildings this fall.

The President is appointing Neil H. McElroy, president of Procter & Gamble, to head the White House conference. McElroy, through his work on the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools and on the Advertising Council, has already helped bring the school's problems to the attention of the nation.

Here are some of the facts on the current conditions of U. S. schools which the Advertising Council reveals:

One of the greatest needs is for elementary-school teachers. The minimum need is for 118,000 new elementary teachers to take care of the increased enrollment and to replace teachers leaving the profession. Since only about 45,700 qualified graduates for the elementary field came out of the colleges last year, the net teacher shortage is about 72,000.

More than three out of five classrooms in the nation will be overcrowded. By 1960, it is estimated that there will be 8,000,000 more children than there are now in schools, to cause an even more serious crowding problem unless there is prompt action.

One of the most vital needs of industry is more persons trained in physics and chemistry. Yet only 367 teachers qualified to teach physics and chemistry were graduated from colleges last June. In addition the potential supply of teachers of any science has dropped 56.3 per cent since 1950.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINE DUNATHAN

BACK TO SCHOOL—The younger generation is preparing to go back to school after the summer vacation — a vacation that found many of the young people and their teachers working at part-time jobs.

Many of the old-timers who say that young people aren't what they used to be are certainly correct. Most of the boys and girls of 1954 are more ambitious, conscientious, hard working and saving than were their grandfathers and grandmothers.

It is not unusual to find students holding down jobs for two, three or more years of their high school careers; and more boys and girls are working their way through college than ever before.

We know of boys in Escanaba who have saved anywhere from several hundred to more than a thousand dollars at part-time work while attending high school. Some of them have earned enough to finance their first year at college—and they expect to work at school and in summertime to pay their own way thereafter.

There are others, of course, who because of family wealth or for other reasons, neither work nor save. They are in the minority, however, for many boys and girls whose parents could pay all of their costs of education hold jobs because they do not like to be idle for two or three months each summer.

MORE THAN A FAD—It is the wise parent who will encourage his children to work—not because it is good for father's pocketbook but because it is part of the education for successful living.

That so many young people are seeking jobs each summer is more than a fad. They are encouraged to do this by the example set by many students who, during their years in Senior High School, enroll in cooperative on-the-job training programs.

Students work in shops, offices, banks and industries and receive credits for jobs well done. When summertime vacation begins they start working fulltime.

Often these young people save to go to college, while others find they like the line of work so well they decide to make it their career.

BACKWARD AND FORWARD—For the sake of comparison and to encourage a more optimistic viewpoint concerning the younger generation, let's examine some rather obvious facts.

First, there are more children going to school for a longer period than ever before in the history of this nation. They could drop out of school at age 16 but few of them do. They want to go to school. They want at least a high school education.

(Fifty years ago it was not uncommon for children to leave school before they finished the 8th grade. The majority did not complete high school and few went on to college.)

Second, the cost of an education today has gone up, as has the price of everything else. Parents still scrimp and save to finance higher education for their children, and more students must work to help pay their way through school.

(Fifty years ago fewer parents had income sufficient to send a child to college, even with scrimping and saving. And if the youngster went to work it was to help maintain the family.)

Third, industries, organizations, individuals and the United States government recognize the value of education and seek to extend its benefit to worthy young people through scholarship grants. Most of these grants pay only a portion of the cost, however, leaving the remainder as a challenge to the student and his family.

(Fifty years ago there was an intense public interest in establishing more elementary and secondary schools—but scholarships for higher education were almost unheard of. The facilities for basic education had to be provided before special training could be encouraged.)

And in conclusion it should be pointed out that education has come to mean training for jobs in industry and business as well as for engineering, teaching, law, medicine and the professions.

Today's educational opportunities are superior to those prevailing at any time in the nation's history, and more of our young people are planning, working and saving to enjoy those opportunities.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Tycoon Howard Hughes, says Neil Morgan, flew his giant Constellation airliner to a San Diego powwow, but returned to Hollywood by car with an aide. Weeks later an operations officer from the San Diego airport managed to get Hughes on the phone, demanding angrily, "What-cha want us to do with that blank Constellation of yours?" There was a long pause, then Hughes murmured sheepishly, "So that's where I left it! I knew I left it somewhere!"

Morgan tells another story about a male cook, obviously down on his luck, who lurched into Lipton's grille in San Diego one day, looking for work. The proprietor, an amiable soul, said he knew of a job open in Coronado, wrote the address on a scrap of paper, and sent the grateful fellow on his way with a dollar for transportation.

The Doctor Says . . .

Treatment for Pinworms Is Apt to Be Very Tedious

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

"My eight-year-old daughter," writes Mrs. A, "has had pinworms off and on 10 times in less than three years. I have taken her to four doctors but nothing seems to help her. She is a nervous child and restless at night."

Mrs. P says she is at her wits end about the same problem: "I'm a mother of small children and have found they have pinworms and am almost beside myself trying to find a cure."

THESE LETTERS show what is well known to doctors, that pinworms are hard to get rid of. Often the reason for this is not that they can't be eliminated but that reinfection is all too easy. In families of several children—or in institutions where many youngsters live close together—the problem is toughest to deal with because one youngster may get rid of them only to catch them again from another.

Pinworms are one of several kinds of animal parasites which have a liking for the human intestinal tract. They live in comfort inside the bowel, usually laying their eggs near the outlet and thus causing itching in this area.

YOUNGSTERS WITH pinworms are likely to be nervous and irritable, suffer

XXVII
Tancered made no reply for a moment. Then he asked, quietly, "What's become of Dick Small?"
"I had a letter from him four-five years ago. He was running a grocery store over in Arkansas. Like I said, I stayed down in Texas. Wouldn't be here now if old Hong Kong hadn't sent for me. Somebody's been giving a friend of his some trouble . . . He stopped, his eyes narrowing. "You live here, Wes?"
"I've been here for a little while."
A perplexed frown settled upon Helm's features. "They know who you are?"
"No, I've used a different name since '67."
"The name wouldn't be . . . Bailey?"
Tancered nodded.
"I should have known," exclaimed Helm. "Smith said you'd killed three men with just three bullets at a place near here . . . Then he suddenly winced. "But you're not wearing a gun."
"I never carry one," said Tancered evenly. "I work as a printer."
"Yeah, sure, I'd forgotten," he grinned. "Nobody would suspect that Wes Tancered was a printer." He looked thoughtfully at Tancered. "By now you've guessed why Smith brought me up here?"
"Me?"
Helm nodded. "Funny isn't it?"
"Fugger's already brought in Eric Stratemeyer."
Helm whistled. "I've heard of him, even down in Texas."
"And there's a Texas man named Manny Harpending."
"Not in your class."
"Neither Harpending nor Stratemeyer—nor you, Dave—will make me take up a gun. I haven't carried one since the time of Sam Older."
Dave Helm showed relief. "I'm glad to hear that I—I'd hate to think of facing you across a gun. And I don't mean that just because you happen to be good with a gun. You know that, Wes."

"I know it."
"It's because of . . . well, the past Wes." He hesitated and the frown came again to his face. "I never came in, Wes, I'm wanted in Missouri and—yes, in Kansas, too. I'm only safe in Texas and I'm not safe there if Hong Kong Smith is against me."
"So you'll take your orders from Smith?"
"I've got to."
Tancered picked up the reins of his mount. "Goodbye, Dave."
Tancered found Luke Miller standing outside the courthouse. The editor came out into the street and talked to him. "Fred Kraft and Walter Combs got in a few minutes ago. They said some people were coming in."
"I talked to a few and got some promises," Tancered said.
"But where are they?" Miller exclaimed. "Only two farmers have come in to a vote. We're still behind at least 35 votes."
"There's still two hours," Miller said wearily. "Take your horse back to the livery stable, then come and vote. We need that vote, and may as well have it."
"But the three men at that stage station here . . . or was that poppycock?"
"That was . . . one of those things. It won't happen again."
Tancered rode his mount to the livery stable and received a black look from the attendant. "You'd never have got this horse if I'd known what you were going to use it for."
"It's a good horse," said Tancered. "If you were going to sell it, what would you ask for it?"
"More money than you've got." Something about Wes Tancered's manner caused the man to hesitate. Then he said: "What do you want to buy a horse for?"
"Because I like this horse."
"Do you like it a hundred dollars' worth?"
"I might."
At the Texas Saloon he found a place at the far end of the bar, near Lily's office, and ordered a glass of beer. He noted that the office door was partially opened and carrying his beer he went to it. He knocked.
"Yes?" called Lily from inside. "John Bailey."
There was a pause, then she opened the door. "Come in."
He went in and she closed the door. "Have you performed your civic duty of voting?" she asked. "Isn't that what Hong Kong Smith called it?"
"I wasn't there, but I heard that he voted—along with 60-some Texas men."
"It didn't surprise you that Jacob Fugger had an ace up his sleeve?"
"He's got a packful of aces," Tancered said. "Including one that he doesn't know about yet."
Lily looked at him in mock surprise. "Well! You, you actually said something that I didn't have to pull out of you."
"That bothers you."
"All right, all right," she said, forcing the usual note of asperity into her tone. "I'll put on a new face and go out there and sing for the boys."
"What are you going to sing, Lily?" Tancered asked, dully.
In the act of turning away from him she whirled and stared at him. "John," she said, slowly, "there's something on your mind—something you want to tell me."
"I think you know."
"I've seen your face while I sang it and I . . . I've been thinking about you. The Turkey Crossing affair . . . your marksmanship against Wild Bill Hickok."
"Yes," he said. "I'm Wes Tancered."
She stared at him wide-eyed.

Around $8690 will buy this three-bedroom, two-bath home with a carport on 75x100-foot lot.

A Florida contractor has started something brand new in home ownership. He's building "at cost" homes in Coral City, only 15 miles from Miami. However, the promoters aren't without monetary motives as they intend to profit from the town's commercial properties and from privately owned water and sewage companies. The houses cost $7025 for a two-bedroom, one-bath model to $8600 for a three-bedroom, two-bath model. Purchase terms are $150 down and $19 a month for the smallest house to $500 down and $60 a month for the most expensive house. There will be six different designs to the homes which will be of a cement block and stucco construction. The building schedule calls for the first family to move in by October, and construction of 400 homes a month. When completed at the end of 1956, Coral City will have 40,000 residents.

This is a typical living room of the "at cost" home. Sliding patio doors bring the outdoors into the living room.

Seaway Program To Be Organized

LANSING (P)—The Executive Office announced that the first meeting of the governor's Seaway Commission has been set for Thursday in the governor's office.

C. Allen Harlan of Birmingham, chairman, will preside. In a statement Gov. Williams said that if Michigan is to meet the challenge of the St. Lawrence Seaway, "a comprehensive study of the various problems connected with this development should be undertaken immediately."

He expressed hope that the seaway commission will prepare recommendations for a future marine traffic promotion program and conduct a statewide economic study to determine the potential of manufacturing and commerce as it may be affected by seaway expansion.

Williams added that the commission should recommend ways to coordinate the activities of existing state and municipal agencies dealing with seaway development.

Mr. Dry Winds Up 38 Years On Job

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Edgar C. Prettyman, Michigan's "Mr. Dry", officially wound up 39 years of temperance work Tuesday.

But Dr. Prettyman, retiring executive secretary of the Michigan Temperance Foundation, is not going to give up his fight against liquor.

Dr. Prettyman, a wispy but peppery spokesman for the temperance interests in Michigan for a number of years, will be 70 years old Friday.

His retirement was official Tuesday but he'll stay on the job until Nov. 1, until a new man is selected.

He plans to participate in a statewide meeting on alcoholism at Michigan State College Sept. 24 and 25 and is busy working on a new alcohol education program for schools.

Dr. Prettyman first started temperance work in Delaware in 1915. He came to Michigan in 1941.

Dr. Prettyman thinks the high point of his work came with the passing and ratification of the 18th amendment. But he admits it had shortcomings.

He doesn't believe there is a chance for another such law now or in the near future.

"People have to be ready for such a law and be willing to accept it," he said. "Right now, they are not fed up enough with liquor."

"Our major job right now," he said, "is to enforce the liquor law as it is written."

Gardiner also testified that Sgt. Jose Mares of Albuquerque, N.M., and three other prisoners were sent to the Red punishment camp shortly after Fleming overheard Mares accuse the Communist camp commander, North Korean Col. Kim Dong Suk, of stealing money from a prisoner. One of the specifications against Fleming is that Fleming told Kim about the conversation, thus causing Mares to be punished.

Gardiner testified Fleming wrote an article for a Communist propaganda magazine, "New Korea," which urged the United Nations to pull its troops out of Korea.

Catholic Services Stopped
Gardiner said he held Catholic prayer meetings in the prison camp library, where Fleming was librarian, and that Fleming ordered him to stop the services. He refused, and shortly afterwards the Communists accused him of holding illegal meetings. Gardiner said he denied that Fleming had told him the reason he wanted the meeting stopped was to keep Gardiner out of trouble with the Communists.

Van Orman told the court he had never heard Fleming say anything derogatory or slanderous against the United States in classes he conducted at the prison camp.

In fact, Van Orman said, Fleming read to the class from a book called "State and Social Structure of the USSR" and then slammed the book down, commenting to the class, "gentlemen, you work or you die," in apparent reference to the Soviet state.

Van Orman said that as the elected leader of prisoners in Camp 12 near Pyongyang Fleming enforced health rules and tried to provide food and medical treatment for the prisoners.

Van Orman said Fleming contracted dysentery in the summer of 1951 and "I thought he was going to die."

Van Orman said he asked Fleming's advice about whether to sign Red propaganda appeals and Fleming answered that he would not put himself in the position of telling another prisoner whether to sign them — that it was up to each man to decide for himself.

103 Soo Buildings Should Be Razed Says Fire Chief

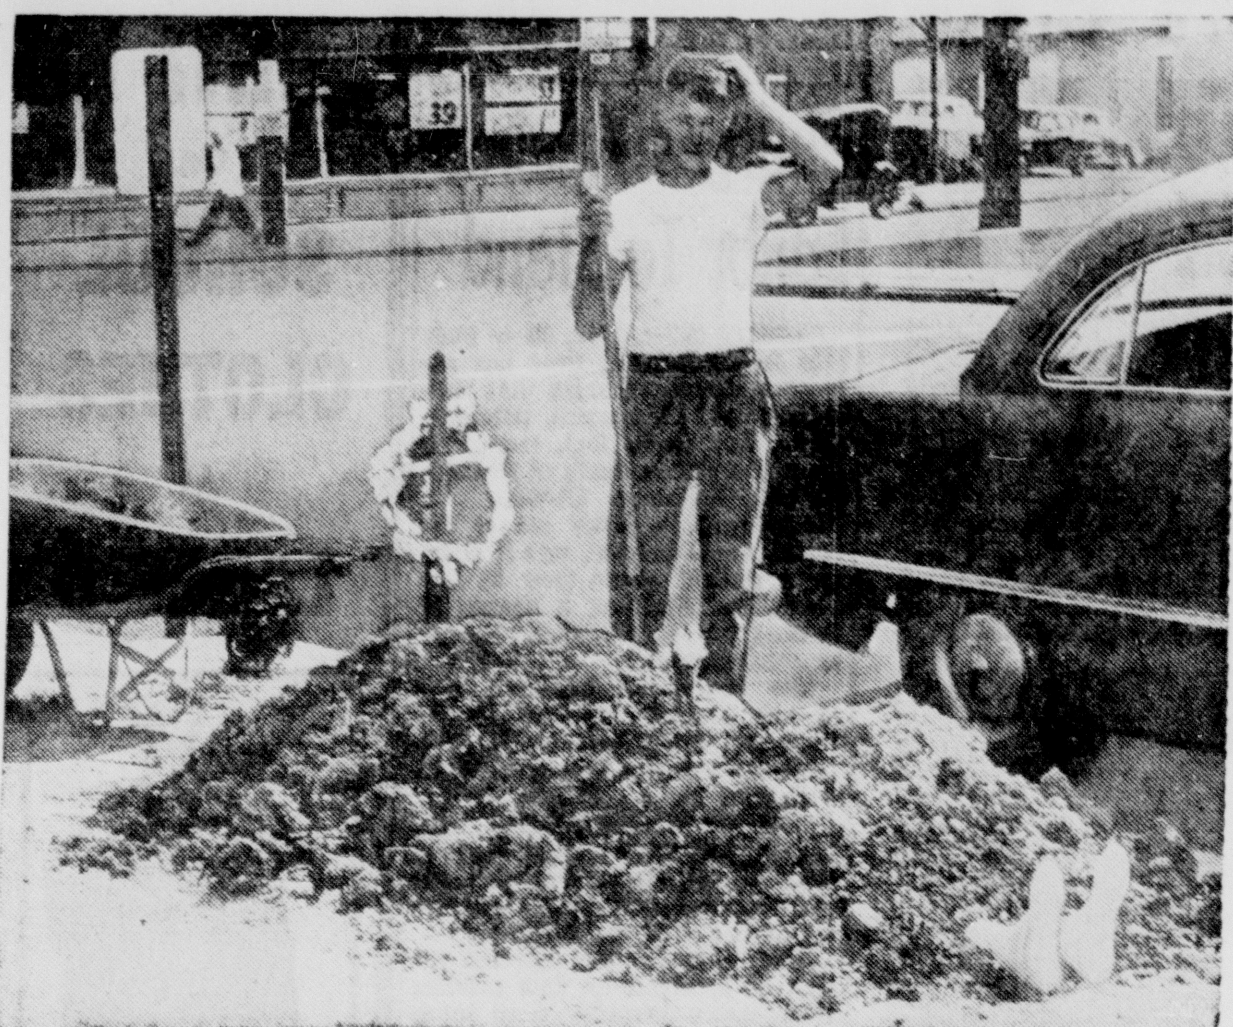

SAULT STE. MARIE — A list containing descriptions of 103 buildings in the city which should be razed or repaired was submitted to the city commission Monday night by Fire Chief Edwin Peterson.

Letters will be sent by City Clerk Dana Strickland to each of the property owners on the list, asking that they comply with Peterson's recommendations.

Eight property owners on the list have already carried out the fire chief's recommendations.

The fire chief compiled the list by making a block-to-block tour of the city. Most of the buildings on the list are either garages or barns which need repairs or should be razed. Some of the property on the list was littered with old lumber which the fire chief said should be removed.

Peterson was asked by the city commission to prepare the list. The list was compiled at this time so that buildings can either be torn down or repaired before the centennial year.

Mine Union Fund Now 1½ Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers welfare fund reported Tuesday night that the discontinuance of two emergency programs helped it to amass a surplus of 1½ million dollars in the year ended June 30.

The fund, which dispenses benefits to members and families of the independent union headed by John L. Lewis, is financed by a royalty of 40 cents a ton on all soft coal mined under union contracts. A separate fund handles benefits to anthracite miners and their families.

The surplus for the last fiscal year compares with a deficit of 7½ million dollars for the preceding 12 months. The excess of income over outgo boosted the fund's reserves to 93½ millions on June 30.

The two programs discontinued during the year provided temporary maintenance for miners' widows and orphans and special maintenance for families of miners undergoing rehabilitation. Total benefits paid out by the fund during the past year declined $5,800,000, although the fund's $200 monthly pensions to retired miners cost an added five millions. The number of persons aided totaled 276,763, compared with 266,421 the year before. The number of retired miners receiving pensions was 54,937. Miners are eligible to retire at 60 if they have worked in the mines 20 of the preceding 30 years.

Recruiting Office Lists Army Branch Quotas For Sept.

Young men interested in enlisting in a particular branch of the U. S. Army are advised by Sgt. John D'Antonio, commander of the Army Recruiting Station at Escanaba, that there are openings for the month of September as follows:

Armor, quota of 9; artillery 34; corps of engineers 34; infantry 33; transportation corps 5; military police corps 11; signal corps 22; adjutant general corps 13; medical corps 14; ordinance corps 13; chemical corps 1; and quartermaster corps 17.

Interested applicants are asked to contact Sgt. D'Antonio as soon as possible for a choice of assignment. The quotas listed are maximums and cannot be exceeded.

It was also announced that the Army has decided to enlist men directly in its "cloak-and-dagger" Special Forces. Men accepted for such behind-the-lines work must pass a tough physical examination and start their new jobs by taking parachute training at Ft. Benning, Ga. Following advanced individual training they will be assigned to 77th Special Forces, Fort Bragg, N. C., for further duty.

Inexpert Swimmer Saves Baby's Life

DAVENPORT, Ia. (AP) — When Ricky Page, 2, toddled off a dock on the Mississippi River into 12 feet of water, he was saved by Carolyn Elvered, 10, who had only three swimming lessons as a Girl Scout over a year ago. Carolyn jumped into the muddy river with her clothes on and paddled her way to the sinking baby.

Rubbish In Bread

KAISERLAUTERN, Germany (AP) — A U. S. Army baker has been convicted here of adding nails, bolts, bottles and a light bulb to bread dough. Sgt. Leslie C. Keith of Dalton, Ga., was sentenced to six months in jail and reduced to the rank of private by a general court-martial Monday. Defense counsel contended that Keith acted to spite his superior, Mr. Sgt. J. G. Spicer of Hopewell, Va., and never intended that the bread would leave the bakery.

Grandchildren Claim $300,000 Estate Of 'Queen Mary' Purnell

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A grandson and two granddaughters of the late "Queen Mary" Purnell of the City of David applied in Berrien County Probate Court for appointment of an administrator for her estate, estimated by them to be worth $300,000.

The religious sect leader left no known will. The grandchildren contend, however, that she held much property in her name and that they are entitled to it. The three are Coy S. Purnell Jr., of Benton Harbor; Hetty Purnell Marks, of Lake Michigan Beach; and Lucille Purnell Lunt, of Put-In-Bay, O.

Benton Harbor legal authorities said they expected the City of David to contest the claim of the grandchildren. They said a requirement for membership in the sect was forfeiture of any personal assets to the colony.

The sect, they predicted, would claim that anything "Queen Mary" held in her name was held as a trustee for the colony, which numbers around 150.

Queen Mary died Aug. 19, 1953. Her husband King Ben Purnell, died several years before. The City of David resulted from a dispute within the House of David sect. The three asking an administrator said they were children of the only son of Queen Mary and King Ben, the late Coy Purnell Sr. A daughter of the religious leaders died when she was 16.

The City of David never issues press statements and any court action it takes or answers usually is not announced prior to filing.

Brave Paralegic Dies In Rochester

OSHKOSH — Ted Hoyer, who was paralyzed in both arms and legs but was still able to establish a successful business, died Monday at a Rochester, Minn. hospital. The young man, grandson of the late Rev. and Mrs. Christian Doehler, formerly of Escanaba, has received national recognition for his courage in establishing his firm which manufactured paraplegic devices to aid the disabled.

Hoyer, 34, died at Methodist hospital of a kidney infection. His paralysis was the result of an automobile accident when he was 16 years old. The accident severed his spinal cord.

In 1952 Hoyer received a special citation from former President Truman's committee for employment of the physically handicapped. His grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Doehler, lived in Escanaba for many years. Rev. Soehler was pastor of Salem Lutheran Church in Escanaba. He also was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Doehler Sr., who lived at 1825 9th Ave. S., Escanaba, before moving to Milwaukee last week.

evacuated Cape Cod homes just ahead of a 20-foot tidal wave. Police estimated that 1,000 cottages were smashed to kindling on cape beaches.

Armed troops patrolled darkened streets of some Cape Cod towns as evacuees slept in public buildings and at homes of the more fortunate.

The Providence River in Rhode Island spilled over into the state capitol's downtown area, a half-hour before high tide. Within an hour the entire business district was under four feet of water.

In Westerly, R. I., automobiles parked on the main street were covered completely by the flood waters. About 200 summer homes were reported swept away. The famed casino in Newport, R. I., was wrecked.

In Boston, the steeple of the Old North Church — from which lanterns were hung to send Paul Revere on his famous midnight ride — crashed to the ground.

Apple Crop Lost

Scores of stately elms on Boston Common were among the thousands of trees felled as the storm swept viciously on its course. The Massachusetts Department of Agriculture reported the hurricane blew down more than a million and a half bushels of apples. Heavy damage to the apple crops also was reported in Maine.

An Agriculture Department spokesman said the corn crop in Massachusetts was destroyed, half the peach crop was damaged and the tomato crop suffered heavy loss. Crop damage was estimated at 15 million dollars in Massachusetts alone.

New Haven Railroad trains ground to a halt when flood waters covered the tracks between New London and Westerly.

New York City suffered traffic snarls and felled power lines, but escaped major damage.

New Hampshire damage was confined mostly to broken and uprooted trees.

Several radio and television towers were blown down by the storm, including a 500-foot top section of the 649-foot tower of WBZ-TV, in Boston; two transmitting towers of Providence radio station WPMJ in Londsde, R. I.; the tower of Worcester radio station WTAG in Holden, Mass., and the tower of Boston station WVOM in Newton.

In New Jersey, Wallace B. Edgerton, state chairman of the National Foundation, said there had been no polio among 15,774 pupils who received the vaccine. But he, too, noted that this was no guarantee for the full season.

State Health Officer Wilson T. Sowder in Tallahassee, Fla., said there had been an unusually high incidence of polio in Florida this year but that only one case had been reported among vaccinated children.

He said that case developed immediately after the child received the vaccine and before it had time to take effect.

The first case of polio among 15,717 Indiana children who received the vaccine was reported at Fort Wayne.

None of 16,772 Ohio youngsters who took part in the vaccine test is known to have contracted polio.

In Douglas County, Neb., where 4,500 children received the vaccine, none has contracted polio so far.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, 39, director of the Virus Research Laboratory at the University of Pittsburgh, developed the vaccine, which was administered to approximately 438,000 children last spring.

County health officers showed a general tendency to keep their fingers crossed until complete returns are in, even though a majority said they so far had discovered no cases among those vaccinated.

In some counties, there have been polio cases among those vaccinated. But health authorities said the patients could have contracted the ailment before receiving all three Salk shots.

Reports Encouraging
The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is withholding comment on effectiveness of the vaccine until it gets a report on a survey conducted independently at the University of Michigan.

A spokesman for the foundation said the polio season has not yet reached its peak, and counseled against any premature findings.

The "very encouraging" report came from Dr. Leon Banov of Charleston, S. C., Charleston County health director.

"I am very much impressed with the vaccine," he said.

He said there had been 27 polio cases in the county since Jan. 1, and that not one child who received the vaccine has contracted the disease.

Banov noted that the only two 7-year-olds who contracted polio had not been vaccinated. He noted also that one 8-year-old contracted polio while his brother, 7, who had received the vaccine, remained unaffected.

The opinion that it is "much too soon" to determine results was given by Dr. Russell E. Teague of Harrisburg, Pa., state health secretary.

"The incidence of polio in Pennsylvania is usually at its highest in late August and early September," he told a newsman.

No cases have been reported in Pennsylvania among children who received the vaccine.

MARINETTE — Six Twin City youths—five from Menominee and one from Marinette—were being held in Oconto County jail Tuesday pending a hearing on assault and battery charges against Henry Ermis, 22, of Pound.

The six: Robert, 22, and Arthur Rabideau, 25, of 1709—13th Avenue; George, 19, and John Lits, 22, of 1711—13th Avenue; and Robert Sobeski, 21, of 1909—12th Avenue, of Menominee and Roger Bregger, 24, of 24 Harvey Court, Marinette, pleaded innocent when they were arraigned in Oconto County Court today and hearing date was set for Sept. 2.

They were arrested by Menominee police Saturday and held for Oconto County authorities. They are charged with beating up Ermis at a tavern 2½ miles west of Pound Friday night.

Marinette Sheriff James Spangler said Ermis left the tavern and went to his parked car and found the youths ransacking the car. He asked them what they were doing and they turned on him and beat him up. Spangler said it was reported the youths took off their belts to beat Ermis.

Health Officers Keep Fingers Crossed On Polio Vaccine Tests

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Preliminary reports on effectiveness of the Salk polio vaccine range from "very encouraging" to "much too soon" to tell.

These are the comments of medical men in counties across the country where the vaccine was administered to school children in the second grade, most of them seven years old.

County health officers showed a general tendency to keep their fingers crossed until complete returns are in, even though a majority said they so far had discovered no cases among those vaccinated.

In some counties, there have been polio cases among those vaccinated. But health authorities said the patients could have contracted the ailment before receiving all three Salk shots.

Three Brothers In Bank Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—The three Galante brothers, all charged with aiding a bank teller embezzle $65,000 from banks at Mt. Clemens and Hamtramck, stood mute at their arraignment in Federal Court Monday. A plea of innocent was entered for them.

Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman released Anthony, 56, a Detroit tobacco store owner, Andrew, 39, of Detroit, and Ignatius, 42, of Mt. Clemens, on $2,500 bond each. Also indicted was Stanley Cieslak, 26, a teller for the Liberty State Bank in Hamtramck. The other bank involved is the Mt. Clemens Savings Bank.

The government charges that overdrafts by the Galantes were hidden by Cieslak in manipulation of funds between the two banks to increase the credit rating of the tobacco store.

An attorney for the Galantes said the brothers already have paid back $30,000 of the amount involved and were borrowing funds to make the restitution complete.

"One of my professors asked me how he could make his younger students as enthusiastic as I am. I told him to shut the classroom doors for 20 years and they would appreciate going to school," she says.

Mrs. Monahan began college when she was 40. She said night school wasn't for her because "I wanted to go to class with the kids and get a real flavor of college."

One of the "kids" is her son, Dean, 18, an engineering sophomore.

Elder called the court to order.

Alcohol Linked To Cancer Risk

ROME (P)—The world's population scientists were told that excessive use of alcohol appears to act as a "multiplying factor" in the risk of cancer.

The report was presented to the United Nations conference on population here by Dr. Sully Charles Marcel Ledermann, chief of the section of economic studies of the French National Institute of Demographic Study, Paris.

He also said excessive use of tobacco and alcohol appeared to multiply each other as cancer factors.

"If we restrict ourselves to alcohol," he reported, "everything seems to indicate that excessive alcoholization of the individual multiplies the risk of action of other possible (cancer) factors."

Dr. Ledermann said his studies were based on the files of 3,500 French cancer cases.

"Tobacco," his report said, "appears to be an etiology (cause) factor in tumors of the buccal (oral) cavity and of the respiratory system, also of skin-cancer of the face. On cancers of the lungs, in particular, our findings are in agreement with those recently published in Great Britain and in the United States."

"A special study was undertaken on how the 'alcohol risk alone' with alcoholics but nonsmokers combines with the 'tobacco risk alone' with smokers but nonalcoholics, into a complex 'alcohol-tobacco risk' for alcoholic smokers. 'Risks seem not to add up, but to multiply one another.'

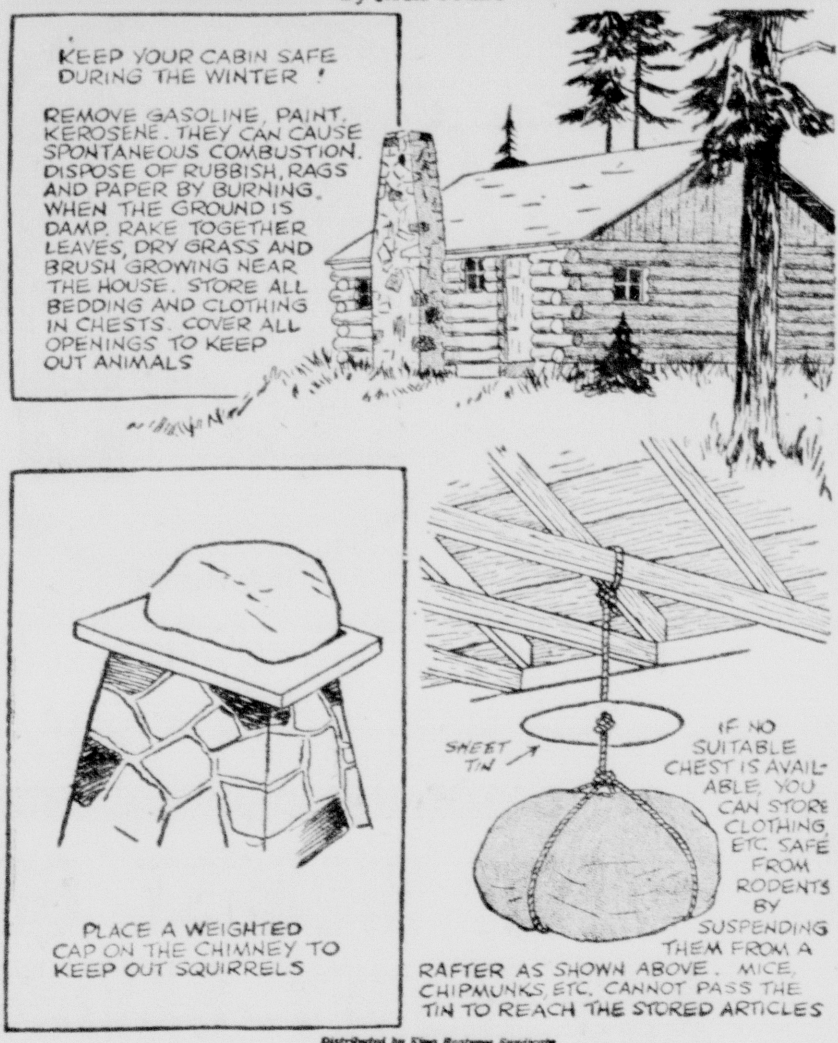

"If, on the one hand, a nondrinking smoker has for instance five times more chance to have cancer of the buccal cavity than a nonsmoker nor drinker, and if on the other hand a nonsmoking alcoholic has five times more chance to have a cancer of the buccal cavity than a nonsmoker nor drinker, an alcoholic smoker seems to have not five plus five times more chance to have cancer of the buccal cavity than a nonsmoker nor drinker, but five times five or 25 times more chance."

Layoffs Increase

DETROIT (P)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) reported Tuesday that seasonal model changeover layoffs in the auto industry may force state unemployment totals to 300,000 in September. The MESC report stressed, however, that most of the workers idled would be back on their jobs in "the next four to six weeks."

Patrols Ready For Labor Day

LANSING, Mich. (P)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared state of emergency in Michigan over the long Labor Day weekend in an effort to reduce an anticipated high traffic death toll.

Williams signed an emergency declaration Monday giving legal status to his previous act of calling out units of the Michigan National Guard to aid in patrolling state highways.

Michigan led the nation in highway deaths over the Fourth of July weekend with 33 fatalities.

During the emergency period, from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, Sept. 7, intensive air and ground patrols will cover state highways to seek out traffic violators.

Some 700 state National Guardsmen have been mobilized. They will draw full federal pay and allowances and will serve with local law enforcement agencies.

Citizens were called on "to exert extraordinary efforts" to obey traffic laws, all law enforcement agencies were told to "exercise special vigilance," press, radio and

Fortunately Coast Guard Was Handy

FOX LAKE, Ill. (P)—Speedboat operator Len Koeller brought his new 14-foot boat with a 25-horsepower motor to Pistakee Lake for a trial spin. After he had been out for about 10 minutes his dog got scared and jumped overboard.

Koeller dived in after him, but he forgot to shut off the motor. The Coast Guard Auxiliary crew saved him and the dog and the boat.

Conference To Study Current Problems In Michigan Resources

LANSING (P)—The future of Michigan's natural resources will come under close scrutiny at a conference set for Jan. 11 and 12, the State Economic Development Commission said.

The University of Michigan, Michigan State College and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology will sponsor the conference at the request of the commission.

Dr. Paul A. Herbert, dean of the Michigan State school of conservation, said:

"The conference will be focused on specific resource problems, and we hope that the findings of the conference will be such that if carried out by the responsible public agencies, the several problems confronting the state in resource conservation will shortly be solved."

He said the conference will be divided into six sections, each dealing with soils, forests, water, minerals, recreation and wildlife.

Advocates Women As Politicians

LANSING, Mich. (P)—Mrs. Julia M. Emery says this about women in politics:

"They can't be pushed around politically, they don't make long-winded speeches when they have nothing to say, and they're generally brighter than me and they pay more attention to business."

Mrs. Emery, 74, a member of the Connecticut legislature, is founder of the National Order of Women Legislators. She has spent 30 years in politics.

Honest Man Purchases Car

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (P)—Back in 1943, Joseph DeFelice sold his auto to a friend. This summer the friend sold the car to Peter Sterbi.

Sterbi, cleaning the car, found a wallet DeFelice had lost 11 years ago. He promptly sent it back with the $21 and valuable personal cards and receipts that DeFelice long ago had given up hope of recovering.

Honest Hunters Refuse Rewards

LA PLATA, Mo. (P)—Sportsman Glen Crawford offered a $5 bonus for each female mink released alive from traps. He figured it would assist in increasing the mink population.

There were four reported releases. But each trapper agreed with the motive of sportsman Crawford and declined the bonus.

Church Council Sees God As Only Hope For World Freedom

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—A summing-up message from the World Council of Churches Tuesday proclaimed "to all who will listen" that only devotion to God can conquer the fears and "powers of evil" that plague the earth.

In its keystone message, the council's historic assembly declared that mankind's search for freedom, justice and peace is doomed to defeat unless men "turn from our ways to God's way."

"Nothing other than God can ever satisfy the heart of man," the message said. "Forgetting this, man becomes his own enemy. He seeks justice, but creates oppression."

He wants peace but drifts towards war. His very mastery of nature threatens him with ruin. Whether he acknowledges it or not, he stands under the judgment of God and under the shadow of death."

The 1,000-word message, counted the cardinal document of the 17-day world Christian gathering, came as the assembly moved toward its final sessions today.

It declared that God, in Jesus Christ, is "the hope of the world." And it said that "only at the cross of Christ" can men find the answer to the "fear and distrust which at present divide our world."

"It is there that Christians must pray daily for their enemies," the message said. "It is there that we must seek deliverance from self-righteousness, impatience and fear."

"And those who know that Christ is risen should have the courage to expect new power to break through every human barrier."

The message affirmed the determination of the council's 163 denominations in 48 nations to seek greater unity to strengthen their faith. It said:

"We enter now upon a second stage. To stay together is not enough. We must go forward. As we learn more of our unity in

Speeding Traffic Improves Safety

MIDLAND, Mich. (P)—Busy U. S. Highway 10 bisects Midland. Traffic hits peaks of more than 1,300 cars an hour on some weekends.

That's when city police go to work. They operate traffic signals manually, give more time to trunkline traffic and otherwise hurry it along. Special signs warn of signals ahead.

They say the system not only speeds traffic but keeps accidents to a minimum.

Christ, it becomes the more intolerable that we should be divided."

The message said "we long ardently" for the fellowship of the churches not belonging to the council. The two largest ones are the Southern Baptist and Roman Catholic Churches.

Indian Basket-Making Becomes Dying Art

NASHVILLE (AP)—Mrs. Leonard Tawney, an Ottawa Indian from Newaygo, pessimistically says Indian basket weaving is a dying art.

Further, she believes much of the intricate handicraft artistry will be gone forever when her generation dies.

Mrs. Tawney was born in a tepee and educated at Mt. Pleasant.

Ordinarily, Indians keep their trade secrets but Nun Mee Ga Mrs. Tawney's Indian name which means "pointer" or "instructor" has revealed some of the fine points in constructing the decorative and sturdy baskets.

Black Ash Best

It's doubtful, however, whether she will gain many pupils.

Here are some of the materials required for the work: porcupine quills, birch bark; herbs for color; black ash logs, an axe and a capacity for long hours of hard work.

IN THE HOME WORKSHOP

Modern home furnishing schemes frequently attempt to capture the atmosphere of bygone times. This may take the form of reproductions of Early American furniture or the standard equipment of hand craftsmen such as a cobbler's bench. The design shown above follows in exact lines and proportions those used a Century or more ago. As this piece may have a prominent place as a coffee table a close-grained wood of cabinet-makers' grand should be used. The pattern for making this reproduction gives the saw lines for the simple curves with sizes of the various parts. The assembling directions are shown in three-dimensional sketches. Pattern 235 is 25c and is included in the packet of Early American reproductions at $1.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at the Fair Store, Escanaba. (Adv.)

Carnival By Dick Turner

"A barbecue is just the opposite of inside! The women argue politics and the men fuss over sauces and the temperature of the fire!"

For an ordinary, five-inch diameter basket, she says, the quills and birch bark are used. They form the body of the basket and must be hand sewn and shaped. It's a long job that might bring $12 on the market.

Most genuine Indian baskets, says Mrs. Tawney, are made from black ash.

And this is where the work begins.

After the ash poles are cut, they must be pounded with the blunt side of the axe until long shreds and fibers are removed. These fibers then must be sawed through other pieces of wood until they become smooth and pliable.

Sweet Grass Used

After that they are tediously woven back and forth until the finished product rests on the workbench. Dipping such baskets into water once a year gives them a long, useful life, says Nun Mee Ga.

There's still another material used in Indian basket weaving — sweet grass.

It grows only in certain river marshes and few untrained gatherers can tell it from marsh hay.

Is there any wonder the art is on the wane?

Mrs. Tawney is making a project of keeping the art alive. She goes around to schools and adult groups in the Newaygo-Muskegon-Cayland area to give her talks and instructions.

Her fondest wish is that the Scouts, 4-H groups and other youth organizations perpetuate some of the Indian arts.

Flagpole Stander At Detroit Says He Will Stay Up 8 Days

DETROIT (AP)—Richard "Dixie" Blandy of Dayton, Ohio, calmly shifted from one foot to another today atop a 50 foot flagpole at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Blandy, 52, a former flagpole painter, climbed up on the pole Monday. He stands on a small two foot square platform and says he will not come down for at least eight days. He was hired to publicize the state fair which opens Friday.

"I'll stay on top of the pole until my feet swell so badly I can't take it any more," Blandy says. "Then I'll come down and go to a hospital for treatment."

Dr. Sanders Of Stephenson Honor Guest At Banquet

STEPHENSON — Dr. Albert Sanders of Stephenson was honored at a recognition banquet Saturday evening, Aug. 28, at the Masonic Hall in Stephenson.

Dr. Sanders came to this community in 1912, and has served this area as veterinarian continuously since that time except a period from Oct. 6, 1917 to March 1, 1919, when he served as a lieutenant in the Veterinary Corps during World War I.

The banquet, was served at 7:30 p. m., was sponsored by the Stephenson Orders of Masons and Eastern Star. Clifford Corey was toastmaster.

Dinner Program

The dinner program was opened with invocation by Rev. Eric Hammar, followed by solos by Mrs. Eric Hammar and Elving Thorpe, remarks by Dr. F. K. Hansen of Marquette, E. B. Hill of Michigan State College, Lansing, Jean Worth and Howard Nadeau of Menominee, vocal duet by Rev. and Mrs. Eric Hammar, and group singing.

Dr. Sanders, coming to this area during the horse and buggy days, has seen it change from days of logging with horses to the leading dairy county in Michigan. He was instrumental in bringing to this county better dairy calves, resulting in fine high producing dairy cattle on farms today. His importance to the dairy industry has increased in value with the growth of dairy production.

Dr. Sanders is the eldest of four children of Albert and Dora Sanders of Georgetown, Ill. Raised on a farm there he received his preliminary education in a one-room school located a mile from his home where all grades from the 1st to the 12th were taught.

Graduated in Chicago

In the fall of 1905 he entered the Kansas City Veterinary College where his freshman year was completed, and in the fall of 1906 he transferred to Chicago Veterinary College from which he was graduated March 31, 1908, with a degree of doctor comparative medicine. In April of that year he opened an office at Rossville, Ill., engaging in general practice and also serving as an assistant state veterinarian.

September 11, 1907, Dr. Sanders married Grace Reese of Georgetown. They have two sons, Corna E. Sanders, and Warren R. Sanders of Norfolk, Va.

SQUEEZES CAN BE SIMPLE

Most bridge players feel that squeeze plays are somewhat too rich for their blood—"they'll leave such things to the professionals."

Well, it's true that some squeezes require extraordinary skill, but the "amateurs" would be surprised to find how easy and even automatic it is to "fall into" certain squeeze positions simply by cashing instead of holding on the last trump. Here is a simple illustration.

South dealer.

This hand came up in a duplicate game, and almost every North-South pair bid six spades and made seven against the lead of a trump, a heart or a club. Strange to say, no West hit upon the diamond lead that could hold the hand to six-odd.

One South, however, did not fully capitalize the luck of the lead. At his table West opened a trump. South drew another round, then properly tried out the heart finesse. When it succeeded, he cashed the heart ace and ruffed a heart, went back to the trump jack and ruffed another heart, and then, in a great hurry to discard the diamond, led a club to the queen and cashed the established low heart. South next tried for a 3-3 club break, but that was asking too much and he came out with only 12 tricks.

One extremely simple move, which could not possibly cost anything, would have given South the extra trick. Before leading to the club queen, all South had to do was cash his last trump. Surely, he would have no need for that card at the end! If South had done that supremely simple thing, East would have fallen victim to an automatic diamond-club squeeze when South collected the set-up heart.

That column item Monday about the big Manistique line . . . Those boys are big, alright, but not that big . . . A typographical error made it read 2188 pounds per man . . . Should have been 218, of course.

A glance at the 1954 Upper Peninsula high school football schedule reveals that U. P. teams are really getting around these days . . . This season they will play teams from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Lower Michigan and Canada in addition to regular U. P. foes.

And talk about travel . . . Some teams really have jaunts coming up this year . . . The Upper Peninsula may appear to be a small territory to some outsiders, but U. P. coaches know better . . . How about Menominee's 229-mile trip to Sault Ste. Marie (and then back again) . . . Calumet will travel 180 miles coming here to play Catholic Central as well as Ishpeming when it hits the road for Soo . . . Escanaba High will be 174 miles from home at Ironwood Friday night and Soo will be just as far when it plays here . . . Ironwood will cover 400 miles in its round trip to Menominee late in the season . . . There are at least 20 games in the schedule that match teams 100 or more miles apart, not counting the outstate games.

Joan (Coffee) McCabe, sensational Upper Peninsula Women's 1954 golf champion, teamed up with Lois Webb, a niece of Mrs. George Walter of Escanaba, in recent feature match at Fond du Lac against a pair of women stars . . . They played Joyce Ziske, Wisconsin state champion, and Jackie Pung, 1952 National Women's Amateur champ . . . And they played to a tie match . . . Lois Webb is the Fond du Lac South Hills Women's club champ.

Enthusiasm Runs High As Irish Drills Open

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (P)—Enthusiasm runs high at Notre Dame as young head coach Terry Brennan today opens football practice with a squad of 79 high-spirited players to usher in the 66th gridiron campaign of the Fighting Irish.

"My No. 1 problem," said the 26-year-old successor of Frank Leahy, "is to build a team whose members know each other's reactions so well they can perform on defense and offense with an instinctiveness. Last year's undefeated team had this unit strength because most of the players had been together for two years. Graduation has taken that valuable asset from the 1954 group."

Stress Experience

In forming his starting unit, Brennan will stress experience as the main requisite.

He strongly indicated that not a single sophomore among the 36 on hand will win a starting assignment by the time Notre Dame opens its 10-game schedule with Texas' veteran eleven Sept. 25.

Top prospect among the newcomers is Paul Hornung, 6-2, 190-pound quarterback from Louisville.

Guglielmi Back

"But in front of Hornung," Brennan points out, "are Ralph Guglielmi, one of four full-time hold-over regulars, and another senior, Tom Carey. They have the experience that Hornung must gain under fire."

Other sophomores high on the list are halfback Dean Studer, 5-11, 180, Billings, Mont.; Sherrill Sipes, 6-0, 185, Louisville, and Jim Morse, 5-11, 180, Muskegon, Mich. Among leading sophomore prospects for the line are tackle Byron Beams, 21, 6-4, Ada, Okla.; ends Jim Munro, 6-0, 195, Chicago, and Bob Scannell, 6-0, 190, South Bend; and guard Eugene Hedrick, 6-0, 190, Canton, Ohio.

Tennessee Becomes Anglers Paradise

WASHINGTON (P)—Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin continue to be the states which attract most fishermen who are non-residents. But other states are creeping up on their records.

Tennessee, for instance, has issued 231,000 fishing licenses to non-residents. This rise in Tennessee's popularity among fishermen is attributed to the long chain of lakes which have been built behind government dams.

Catches in these Tennessee lakes range from 17-pound walleyes, 14-pound largemouth bass and 10-pound smallmouth bass to 3-pound crappies.

Jubilant Indians Convinced They Have American League Flag Iced

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (P)—The jubilant Cleveland Indians, to a man, were convinced today they had the American League pennant all wrapped up. But none was willing to speak for the record.

Manager Al Lopez, jubilant but cautious, after Early Wynn's brilliant two-hit performance in Cleveland's vital 6-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night, came as close as he could without actually predicting the flag.

"This is the biggest game we've won all year," he said happily. "I'd say we're in the best position right now than we've been in all season."

Backs To Wall

"We might still get hurt but we know we can't get killed. I'd say they've really got their backs against the wall now." Cleveland's triumph boosted the Tribe's lead to 5½ games over the crestfallen Yankees who had expected to use their "crucial" three-game series to slice the Indians' margin to a game and a half. Following this series, the Indians and Yankees clash two more times in Cleveland.

Al Rosen said what was on the minds of many in the crowd of 58,859.

Yanks Need Help

"Our victory really put the Yankees in an unenviable spot," he said. "To my knowledge, it is the first time that New York finds itself in a position where it can't do it itself. The Yankees, have always been able to win the big ones. This time they didn't. Now, for the first time in six years, they have got to depend upon somebody else."

"They've got to hope and pray that Chicago beats us. Wynn, who had a no-bitter until

With final games played in the Bay de Noc League regular season last week, the annual championship playoffs are scheduled to open Sunday on a sudden-death basis. Cornell blanked Trenary 2-0 to claim sole possession of first place in the final standings. Garden made it close by defeating Fayette 8-7 to finish one game behind the Cornell Lions.

Manistique and Cooks finished in a deadlock for third spot in the top division. A flip of the coin will likely determine which team gets third place so that the opening games of the playoff series can be set.

Cooks pulled up to the tie for third by defeating Manistique 11-6 in the season finale last Sunday. Playoff assignments are expected to be announced from league officials shortly.

Age No Handicap To Horse-Shoe Doubles Champs

Escanaba's grand old men of horse-shoe came through with flying colors to win the Delta County tournament doubles last night. Joe White and Joe Gardner, both in their 70's, turned back a pair of upstarts still in their 20's to win the title.

Victims of the oldsters were Russell and Ray Robitaille who fell 25-22, 23-25 and 25-19 in the championship set.

Both White and Gardner are devout practitioners of the art of pitching ringers. They practice each afternoon and evening at the Royce Park courts.

The New York Yankees have lost their last chance to stop the Cleveland pennant dash single-handed.

Unless somebody else helps, the five-year New York monopoly in the American League is doomed. Only five games remain between the record-bound Indians and the second-place Yankees and the Yankees trail by 5½ lengths.

The point of no return was reached Tuesday night. The Yankees got only two hits as Cleveland roared down the warpath to a 6-1 triumph.

Wynn Was Wicked

Early Wynn never gave the Yankees a chance. Cleveland pushed over two runs in the fourth on singles by Vic Wertz and Dave Pope, a double by Al Rosen and a sacrifice fly. Four runs in the eighth, three of them on a homer by Dave Philley, wrapped it up.

Irv Noren homered in the seventh. Enos Slaughter slashed a pinch single in the eighth. That ended the Yankee attack. Wynn's victory was his 19th and his most impressive of the year.

In the National League, the New York Giants moved 3½ games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers with a 5-3 triumph in St. Louis. Brooklyn managed only three hits off Gene Conley and bowed to the Milwaukee Braves 2-1.

Cubs Cop Two

In their major league action, the Chicago Cubs won a pair from Pittsburgh 14-2 and 7-3. Philadelphia clipped Cincinnati 9-3, breaking an eight-game losing streak. Washington defeated Detroit 5-3, and the Philadelphia Athletics pushed Baltimore into the American League basement with a double-header sweep 8-6 and 6-3.

Hurricane weather forced the postponement of the Chicago White Sox game in Boston. The Giants jumped away to a three-run lead in St. Louis, were caught, then won in the fifth. Al Dark singled. Henry Thompson walked and Dusty Rhodes drove in Dark with a single. Thompson scored from third on Willie Mays' sacrifice fly.

Mays drove in another run with a single and scored one after hitting a triple. Rhodes also drove in a second run.

Seven Lettermen Form Nucleus Of Catholic Central Grid Team

Seven returning lettermen, only four of whom were regulars last season, form the nucleus of the new Escanaba Catholic Central football team working out daily under Coach Tom St. Germain and assistant Ronald Feuerstein.

Last year's St. Joe Trojans lost heavily through graduation and a big rebuilding job is being undertaken by the Catholic Central coaches.

Lost were regulars Bill Mavcunich (all-U. P. fullback), Gerry McDonough, Dick Bryson, Dick Cass, Dick Moreau, Bob Rademacher and Stan Venne and letter-winners Gary Guertin, Gerard Collins and Leon Mileski.

Dells Edge Merchants To Win League Crown

American League softball championship last night by edging the Merchants 5-4 with a tie-breaking run in the last of the seventh inning.

The Dells will meet Harnischfeger Thursday night in the final league game but the outcome will not affect their position at the head of the standings.

The Dells jumped off to a 4-1 lead in the first inning but saw it vanish as Bob Anderson blasted a three-run homer over the fence in the top of the seventh. The league champs came back in the bottom of the final inning to cop the win when Keith Morin singled. But Noel bunted safely and Don Paulin slashed a hit to center field scoring Morin with the championship run. It was Paulin's third hit of the game.

Paulin went the route for the champs while Leo Lancour handled mound duties for the Merchants.

In the preliminary Harnischfeger, U. P. Champions, edged a league all-star team 6-5 in eight innings. Doug Peterson, who had walked, scored the deciding run on an error at first base after Lowell LaPlante had grounded to third. John Pieropon allowed eight hits from the Harnie mound while the Harnies collected seven off Vern Johnson.
